EAGLE GOLD MINE Process Operator 1 and Yukoner At Work Jake Audy started with Victoria Gold at the mine in August and in his role, inspects and maintains the Secondary Crusher at site.

"I'm so happy to work here at home in the Yukon," says Jake. "The community where I live has a wonderful kindness and everyone helps each other, just like the community I work at here at the mine site."

Fellow Yukoner Robert Gilbert drives a Haul Truck at the mine and started with Victoria last June. "Eagle Gold Mine has a good work environment and a good work/life balance with the time off," says Robert.

Gemma McIntyre is an Administrative Assistant for the mine's Processing Department who started with Victoria in November. She hails from a mining family in Dawson City and is a fourth generation Yukoner.

"I really enjoy the team work here, not only within my department, but with everyone else at site as well," says Gemma. "We all bring so much knowledge to the table and it's interesting to see how we can put it all together to bring out the best possible results for the Eagle Gold Mine. Getting to work in such a beautiful part of the world here at site is also a bonus."

Instrumentation Technician Dedrick McLachlan brings several years of mining and oil and gas experience and was involved with the Eagle Gold Mine's commissioning and start up. His day-to-day responsibilities include the support and optimization of mine operations through process instrumentation maintenance and trouble shooting. "I enjoy applying my skill set by facing and overcoming technical challenges," says Dedrick. "I'm very privileged to be part of such a great group of people here at the mine and working away from the hustle and bustle of city life never gets old."

Spencer Pool operates a bulldozer, backhoe, grader, loader and drill on site. He is also the captain of the Eagle Gold Mine's Rescue team and part of his responsibility involves training and readying the team to respond to a potential incident at site.

"I really enjoy the territory's natural beauty and working in the mine's remoteness with such a good group of people," says Spencer. In his spare time, Spencer, who has lived in the Dominican Republic, also speaks Spanish and Portuguese, surfs and is a certified personal trainer.
